

Sweeten the season with a box full of goodies

From fizz and cake to luxury candles, Christmas hampers have it all, says Zoe Strimpel

NOTHING brings a smile to the face like a box of goodies. A hamper is everybody's favourite gift and about as opposite to that large, dreary tome you'll never read as any present can be. And now that the UK has forged a proud and delicious tradition of home-grown food, hampers have never been better. Some, such as the one from Italian producers Nudo, draw on the best of abroad – testament to how high our gastronomic standards are now. Here's a guide to the tastiest Christmas gifts out there.

TURNHAM GREEN 'BELLS AND BAUBLES' HAMPER

Turnham Green is the eco-friendly success story of a couple of ex-City workers who retrained as chefs and met at the Leith's School of Food and Wine. All food is home-made and it's jolly good – trust us.

- Robert Wilson's Organic Green Tea
- WMF Tea Infuser
- True Story Organic Dark Chocolate and Chilli Cookies
- Turnham Green Zesty Plum & Rosehip Preserve
- Turnham Green Onion and Apple Chutney
- Cocoloco Caramelised Almond Shard Chocolates

- Turnham Green Mustard with Garlic and Fennel
- Turnham Green Essential Oil Bath Salts
- Turnham Green Spiced Nut Mix
- Coconut Oil
- Honeyrose Rich Fruit Cake
- Turnham Green Plum and Sesame Sauce
- Timothy Han Oakmoss and Vetiver Scented Soy Candle
- Miller's Damsels Organic Three Seed Wafers
- Card with a handwritten personal message of your choice
- James White Apple and Cinnamon Juice
- Big Tom Spiced Tomato Juice

£90

www.turnham-green.co.uk

